pire Colgan why the game was stopped. "Called on account of darkness," responded Colgan.

This was so funny that everybody in hearing laughed, and just agethe words were out, Old Bol peeped out from be-hind a bank of clouds above the Ohlo hills to show Colgan that he didn't know what he was talking about. Colgan saw the point and added: "All the players but Lytle wanted the game called."

spected? Isn't he the team manager? Do not the rules provide that the game shall continue until decides. Under the circumstances it was a great mistake to call the game, and if the Wheeling players really did set Colgan to stop it, they showed the "white the color of the property of the color of the feather" in rankest fashion and are devery one of them ought to be soaked with good stirr fines for meggang in a matter that devolves solely upon the team manager. The Wheeling public wants no more games of such unsatisfactory ending as the one of yesterday afternoon, and the Wheeling players would do well to play ball and let the proper officials decide when and how a proper officials decide when and how a game shall end.

Wells and Wadsworth were the opposing pitchers in the first game, and honors were about even, the hits being nine and eight in New Castle's favor. Errors by Whistler and Lyons lost the game for the Stogles. Whistler's allowed the visitors to tie, and Lyons' in the ninth, when he was given a chance to retire the opposing team op an easy double play, resulted in the winning run being batted in half a minute later. Toungstown at Mansfield.

Wheeling's old hoodoo, the New Castle team, came to town yesterday and in the afternoon proceeded to make the fans uncomfortable by winning the first game of the double header and tielns the second. And by the way, speaking of that tied game, it was "a funny snap" sure enough. When Strang caught a fly to deep left in brillant fashion that closed the ninth inning with the acore a tie, 4 to 4, the spectators supposed, of course, that the game would proceed, but to everybody's surprise the teams came in off the ground and the umpires with them. The intelligencer reporter asked Umpires Colgan why the game wassatopped. "Called on account of dargress." re-

Wheeling and New Castle indulgs in another double header this afternoon, the first game starting at 2 o'block. Saturday being a half holiday, the last of the summer, by the way, in the wholessle district, there will doubtless be a large outpouring of the tans. For the Wheelings, Parvin, and Whissen, will do the twiting, and Sirsit are slated to appear in the center of the diamond for the visiting team. The Stogies will make a desperate effort to take both games.

The roast given President Power by Strobel, of Toledo, is an exhibition of bad temper upon the part of the Toledo magnate and nothing more. Prohably the six or eight straight defeats his pets were given recently had some "mag to do with the big German's pettashness. As to President Power, although the Intelligencer does not pose as his champton on all occasions, it is due him to say that he has done better service for the Inter-state league than Strobet or his lik could do in a thousand years. Anyway, the life of the league is not dependent upon Toledo or any other town on the circuit, and when Strobet realizes this probably he will subside into the one-two nited of nothingness in which he is so much at home.

Wheeling and Youngstown play a double-header at Canton, Sunday, Many fans will take in the Butchers' Association dollar excursion via the Wheeling & Lake Erie, to see the Progressive Neighbor.

MARTIN'S FERRY NEWS.

The people of this city are wondering what the fountain at the corper of Fourth and Hanover street, is for. If for an ornament it could be greatly beautified. If for a benefit to the public its work is not fulfilled. The fountain has been out of repair all summer and flooding the streets and yesterday the water was turned off, rendering it absolutely ussless. Is it to remain in this condition permanently, or is it to undergo the much needed repairs? If is to be hoped that the matter will be attended to at once or else the fountain taken away and not be a cause for constantly fooling the people.

Bert Shaver encountered and killed a large copper-head snake while hunting near Bellaire Thursday. It is very uncommon to find this species of snake in this immediate vicinity and to prove that it is no "snake story" Bert brought the poisonous reptile home to exhibit it.
